

Carlos Martinez
Bachlors of Science
Innovation Fellows Program - University of Florida
Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering/Warrington College of Business

I am a third-year student at the University of Florida's Warrington College of Business, pursuing both a degree in Business Administration and a Master's in International Business through the University's combined degree program. My expected graduation date is May 2022.

I was born in Venezuela but moved to the United States at an early age in an endeavor for better education which has made me open-minded and versatile to change.

I aspire to obtain full-time employment in a financial institution that shares my personal values of diversification and is team-driven, in which I can further develop my innovative thinking and leadership skills by motivating others to achieve a common goal.

In my free time, I primarily like being in social settings with friends, reading, or working out. I also do MMA in my free time and love the discipline it has taught me.

